SECOND-HAND HOURGLASS

Wondrous Item, Rare (Requires Attunement by a Warlock)

Black sand climbs between two cracked bulbs. Its brass stand has a thumb-shaped hollow.

While holding this hourglass, you can use your Magical Cunning feature as a Magic action, completing its rite during that action. All its other requirements and limits apply. Once used, this property is unavailable until the next dawn.

Curse. Shortening the rite curses you. While cursed, whenever you cast a spell using a Pact Magic spell slot, you take 1d4 Psychic damage immediately after the casting ends. You cannot voluntarily end your Attunement. Remove Curse ends the curse on you and your Attunement.

FORKED BLAST FERRULE

Wondrous Item, Uncommon (Requires Attunement by a Warlock)

Two iron prongs clasp the end of a wand or rod. A spark crawls between their tips.

While holding an Arcane Focus fitted with this ferrule, once on each of your turns when Eldritch Blast hits a creature, you can make the next beam from that casting originate from the target's space. That beam must attack a different creature you can see within 60 feet of you. For that attack, measure the spell's range and the target's cover from the first creature's space. This property has three uses, regained at dawn.

Curse. Redirecting a beam curses you. While cursed, you have Disadvantage on saving throws against being moved against your will. You cannot voluntarily end your Attunement. Remove Curse ends the curse on you and your Attunement.

CHAIN-KEEPER'S FINGER STALL

Wondrous Item, Rare (Requires Attunement by a Warlock)

A finger stall of woven wire has a small brass hook. It tugs toward a nearby familiar.

While wearing this finger stall, when your familiar within 60 feet takes damage, you can take a Reaction to teleport it to an unoccupied space you can see within 5 feet of you immediately after the damage resolves. You and the familiar must be on the same plane, and it must have at least 1 Hit Point after the damage. This property has three uses, regained at dawn.

Curse. Teleporting your familiar with this finger stall curses you. While cursed, you have Disadvantage on Dexterity saving throws whenever your familiar is more than 10 feet from you on the same plane. You cannot voluntarily end your Attunement. Remove Curse ends the curse on you and your Attunement.

LAST-PAGE PAPER KNIFE

Wondrous Item, Rare (Requires Attunement by a Warlock)

A blunt bone blade rests inside a folded black cover. Its edge leaves silver dust on paper.

As a Magic action, touch this knife to your Book of Shadows and replace one cantrip currently granted by your Pact of the Tome invocation with another eligible cantrip, following the invocation's normal selection rules. The replacement lasts until you finish a Long Rest or that book disappears. When it ends, a surviving book regains its original cantrip. A new use ends the previous replacement before you choose. Once used, this property is unavailable until the next dawn.

Curse. Replacing a cantrip curses you. While cursed, you must hold your Book of Shadows to cast any cantrip granted by Pact of the Tome. You cannot voluntarily end your Attunement. Remove Curse ends the curse on you and your Attunement.
